A Back-Up Sight That's the Best You Can Buy

Magpul set the standard with its MBUS back-up sights, and the company is taking it to an entirely different level with its MBUS 3 design, which is loaded with cutting-edge features in a durable, rugged package. The Magpul MBUS 3 Front Sight has been downsized, measuring only .44 inches high and 1.15 inches wide. Even though the sight looks like the MBUS Pro, this front sight has been crafted from Magpul's impact-resistant polymer, which saves weight while making it incredibly strong. A spring-loaded push button deploys the Magpul MBUS 3 folding front sight when needed, bringing it up to standard AR-15 sight height. You won't need any tools to adjust the elevation on this sight, and there's even a dual-width front sight included that's similar to the one found on the MBUS Pro. These sights can be had in black, flat dark earth, stealth gray or OD green, and they're all made in the USA.
