Build Custom Scope Bases; Saves Time & Money

Picatinny cross-section aluminum rail stock gives you a head start on building custom scope bases. Pre-contoured, so you need only cut to required length, mill cross-slots, radius the underside (if needed), and drill mounting holes. Much easier than machining from scratch from bar stock. Perfect for installations that require special ring positioning. Place cross-slots only where you need them; dovetail contour accepts Picatinny or Weaver-style rings. Channel down the center keeps weight to a minimum without compromising rigidity.

Instructions for Installation and Usage

1. Preparation:

- Gather necessary tools: saw, milling machine, drill, and safety equipment.
- Ensure a clean and welllit workspace.

2. Cutting the Rail:

- Measure the required length of the rail.
- Use a saw to cut the rail to the desired length. Ensure a straight cut for proper installation.

3. Milling CrossSlots:

- Use a milling machine to create crossslots as needed.
- Follow the specifications for slot dimensions to ensure compatibility with mounting rings.

4. Rounding the Underside:

- If necessary, radius the underside of the rail to prevent snagging or injury.

- Use appropriate tools to achieve a smooth finish.

5. Drilling Mounting Holes:

- Mark the locations for mounting holes based on your specific installation requirements.
- Use a drill to create holes, ensuring they are aligned properly for mounting.

6. Installation:

- Position the rail on the mounting surface.
- Secure the rail using appropriate screws and hardware.
- Doublecheck that the rail is firmly attached and does not wobble.

7. Final Inspection:

- Once installed, inspect the rail for stability and proper alignment.
- Test the installation with the intended scope rings before use.

Disposal Instructions

- Dispose of the product in accordance with local regulations.
